

Rising at the confluence of the Phochhu and Mochhu rivers, Punakha Dzong, also known as Pungthang Dewa Chhenbi Phodrang, stands as one of Bhutan's most ...

Connecting the dzong to the main road is the iconic Punakha Bazam--today celebrated as the world's longest wooden cantilever bridge with an unsupported span. More than just a ...

Plan your visit to Punakha Suspension Bridge in Bhutan. Learn how to reach, the best times to go, and tips for the perfect travel experience.

Rising at the confluence of the Phochhu and Mochhu rivers, Punakha Dzong, also known as Pungthang Dewa Chhenbi Phodrang, stands as one of Bhutan's most treasured architectural masterpieces.

Crossing the bridge is free and an unforgettable experience. From the middle, you have a spectacular view upstream to the Himalayas and downstream to the fertile Punakha Valley. If you're ...

A short distance from Bhutan's longest suspension bridge on the Pho Chu river is Punakha Dzong. Historically this dzong is the second oldest in Bhutan and has witnessed the coronation ceremonies ...

This pedestrian bridge, adorned with colorful prayer flags, stretches across the mighty Mo Chu (Po Chu) River, offering breathtaking views and a thrilling walking experience.

This arched wooden bridge, built high above the river Po Chu, connects the Punakha Dzong with Punakha City and the other villages spread around the valley. If you're looking for a little thrill and an ...

Walk across one of Bhutan's longest suspension bridges in Punakha--an exhilarating experience with panoramic views, fluttering prayer flags, and a glimpse into the kingdom's river-valley beauty.

All these bridges are called Bazam, a word composed of Ba which means Cattle and Zam who is the traduction of Bridge in Dzongkha, the national language of Bhutan. This comes from the ...

Walking across the bridge is a thrilling experience because the Gyalpo chain bridge did not consist of the suspended wooden deck. The bridge connects the villages of Shengana, Samdingkha, ...

Web: <https://tlaletsoglobal.co.za>